SPRINGFIELD, MO – Butler, Rosenbury & Partners (BR&P) is pleased to announce the licensure of two of its intern architects.

Brian Wells and Laura Daugherty have each received their licenses to practice architecture from the State of Missouri Division of Professional Registration.

Wells graduated from the University of Arkansas in 2002 with a Bachelor of Architecture degree, and has been with BR&P for nearly two years. Daugherty graduated from Drury University in 2002 with a Bachelor of Architecture degree, and has been with BR&P since June of 2002. Both are members of the American Institute of Architects (AIA).

Butler, Rosenbury & Partners offers architecture, engineering, interior design, and landscape architecture design services with headquarters in Springfield, MO, and regional offices in Phoenix, AZ and Dongguan, China. The company has more than 65 employees and is currently celebrating its 30th anniversary.
