Butler, Rosenbury & Partners, Inc. (BR&P) has been named a Top 150 Design Firm in Southwest Contractor magazine. Design firms from Arizona, Nevada and New Mexico were ranked by 2006 revenue for projects within these three states.

BR&P opened a regional office in Phoenix one year ago, with the appointment of long-time BR&P Vice President, Douglas Jackson, AIA, leading the effort as Vice President, Phoenix Regional Office.

BR&P decided to open a Phoenix office when they were awarded a four-part, joint-venture project from one of the largest private hotel developers in the country, John Q. Hammons, and the City of Glendale, Arizona. This four-part project includes the Renaissance Hotel & Spa, Conference Center, Media Center, and Parking Garage. John Q. Hammons Hotels was the hotel developer, while the City of Glendale owns the Conference Center, Media Center and Parking Garage. Unlike any other property in the City of Glendale, this project has the ability to support the needs of any large-scale, high-profile event.

The grand opening for the property took place on October 30th with local dignitaries, city leaders and local business owners attending.

Butler, Rosenbury & Partners is an architectural and engineering design firm located in Springfield, Missouri. The company has more than 85 employees and has recently opened offices in Phoenix, Arizona and Dongguan, China.
